The Mississippi Public Health Association recognizes the transition to working from home has changed our plans and those of our partners to conduct in person activities during National Public Health Week. Please use this week to connect virtually with activities around the NPHW daily themes and other topics to stay informed and take care yourself. We thank you for the work you do today and every day in public health.

NPHW Virtual Events

NPHW Forum: Monday, April 6, 1-3 PM EDT

Link to Forum

NPHW Student Day

Join APHA and students from Howard University at 5 p.m. ET on Thursday, April 9, for a live, interactive conversation: "How to Get Hired After Graduation!" RSVP for the conversation here, and plan to watch the event on this page.

NPHW Twitter Chat

APHA is hosting its tenth annual National Public Health Week Twitter Chat on Wednesday, April 8 at 2 p.m. ET. We'll chat about all things public health, celebrate everything public health has accomplished and talk about where the movement is going. Make sure you follow @NPHW on Twitter and use #NPHWchat.

Please share this link, and make sure your Twitter account has RSVP'd as well:
